

WILSON TABOOS SOCIAL GAYETIES

Attributes Recent Illness to Cold Contracted During Congressional Reception.

By Ernest C. Walker.
(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)
WASHINGTON, February 16.—President Wilson's recent illness from a severe cold probably means a further curtailment of official gayeties in administration circles next year. It is well understood that the President caught his cold at a social reception during a recent congressional reception. He eliminated New Year's receptions, it will be remembered, and has followed the precedents of his office, which President Roosevelt slightly and President Taft quite generally disregarded, that the occupant of the White House should not attend social functions elsewhere, except the cabinet dinners.

Even with this the social strain upon officials this winter has been very great, and it has worn out even stronger men physically than the President. Whatever else may be said, there is very convincing attention to official duties in high places under this administration. The President and members of his cabinet have over so little important work as possible to subordinate. The result is they are tired to their desks long hours. For years there has been a conviction that the President and members of his cabinet should be relieved from certain official formalities, as these are undoubtedly a tax upon human energy and detract from one's vigor in attending to public duties.

Fin More Social Reforms.
President Wilson is firmly convinced of this, and he said Mrs. Wilson intended next season to range to further social reforms as far as high officials of the cabinet are concerned. Probably the cabinet dinners must go. All in all they are weary, and the persons concerned would generally be glad to see them abolished.

Every time President Wilson takes a cold, it is a reminder to Washington and out into the country regarding his health. He is susceptible to colds, and because of the enormous duties of his office members of his family are more or less self-conscious about his ability to keep up. The statement in the country notwithstanding, the President's general health is good. Possibly there is too much doctoring in his case. A high official remarked the other day that if he did not stop taking the President's pulse every few minutes and putting him to bed when ever he showed slight indisposition, they would get him sick by and by.

Dr. Cary Grayson, the President's personal physician, feels his responsibility for the President's health and whenever there is a cold he adopts drastic measures to cure it. The President is a tractable patient. He insisted on having his way last December, when he had the grippe, and acted contrary to Doctor Grayson's advice. Since then he has done as Doctor Grayson prescribed. When told to go to bed he has obeyed. The Washington weather, especially during the first year of one's residence here, is very trying. The changes in temperature at Washington are very sudden. The city is on the border line between the cold weather of the northern States and the sunny South. It is often a summer's day in January, as has happened this year, and within twenty-four hours as cold as in North Dakota.

In general the winter has been a very open one. There was no fall of snow till February 12, but the cold wave then was attended by much sickness in official circles, due in no small part to the fact that so many of the officials have come here in recent months and have not yet become fully acclimated. Grippe and kindred fevers of illness have been very prevalent. The cold wave and the snow came when there has been a long period of governmental activity and also when many people had also been "going it hard" in a social way. Accordingly, many were all worn out, from having been busy night and day.

HAWAII EXHIBIT AT FAIR ASSURED

Governor Pinkham Makes Stipulation That Commission Remain Within $100,000 Appropriation.

Hawaii will have its building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco next year. This was definitely stated by Governor Pinkham on Saturday in his letter to Chairman H. P. Wood of the Hawaii exhibit commission, but all territorial expenditures for the exhibit must be kept within the $100,000 appropriated by the last legislature. This means a smaller building, as it is not likely that $50,000 will be available for construction purposes.

Plans will now be drawn for a structure to cost less than $50,000. In fact, the present intention is to provide a building at a cost not to exceed $30,000. The balance of the appropriation will go toward the other features of the Hawaii show. Out of the entire appropriation there is now available $28,000.

Chairman Wood will leave Honolulu for San Francisco tomorrow by the steamer Honolulu. His first task on the mainland will be to select a new site for the Hawaii building and exhibit. New plans for the Hawaii building will be prepared in San Francisco by the commission's architect, under the supervision of Chairman Wood.

Popular Subject at Permia's.
In his letter to Chairman Wood, Governor Pinkham says emphatically that the commission must hold itself within the territorial appropriation, but that this is no bar to private or popular subscriptions to enlarge the scope of the exhibit. Whatever funds may be thus made available the commission is fully empowered to handle as it best sees fit.

As a result of the Governor's communication of the twenty-fourth instant, says the Governor in his letter to Chairman Wood, "kindly permit me to say that the territorial auditor informs me that the balance in the appropriation made by the last legislature is $28,000." "I am glad to hear of this," said Sandy, "that you inform the secretary of the Territory, through whom all expenditures must be authorized and approved."

Does Not Presume to Advise.
"I do not presume to advise you or the commission, as you have had experience in expenditures, but from the list of proposed expenditures furnished me I am of the impression that the item should be readjusted in distribution of amounts."

The amount set aside for entertainment and "for individuals" expenses to me to be out of proportion to the rest of the plan and exhibits. "It is my duty to urge the restriction of the expenses of the Territory directly, indirectly, impliedly or by moral application, to within the amount authorized by the legislature."

The appropriation implied that the commission is to carry out its objects as successfully as the funds will, with good judgment and careful expenditure. "Whatever assistance private generosity may choose to tender your committee is, of course, subject to your discretion."

Wood Submits Revised Figures.
In response to the Governor's request for a revised statement giving detailed information in regard to the plan of the commission, Chairman Wood submitted his figures, which show the following: Building, including architect's fees, tanks and other fixtures for aquarium, $30,000; aquarium, including transportation and care of fish, supply of clean ocean water, etc., $2,000; decoration of building, $2,000; relief maps of islands, $2,000; educational exhibits, $500; sundry exhibits, $1,000; dioramas, $2,000; office, $250; reception room, $250; enlarged photographs, $1,000; transparencies, $1,500; tropical coral, $2,000; exhibits in main exposition building, $1,000; folders, leaflets, circulars, postal cards, $500; receptions and entertainments, $500; sundries, $500; services, $500; january, 1914, $1,200; services, director, january, 1914, $1,000; closing of exposition, $2,000; secretary, same period, $500; january work, $1,000; singing boys, $500; transportation, passengers and freight, $4,000; expenses, commission (five) at exposition, $2,500; stenographer, $100; publicity, $2,000; superintendent exhibit, $2,000; lecturer, $2,000; lights, heat, etc., $2,000; moving picture films and lantern slides, $2,000.

STORYETTES

Casey and Callahan were attending their first circus, and were all eyes. They wandered around the menagerie tent, taking in all the sights. "An' it's the queer names they do be havin' on 'em," said Casey, "an' I don't know what they mean." "That's right," replied Callahan, "an' here's a wun more," as his eyes spied the word "axolotl." "What's that kind of a beast that is?" "We'll go in and see, anyhow," said Casey, and next moment they found themselves out under the sun.

It was the morning of the Sabbath. As Sandy was making his way homeward after attending Kirk the minister happened to overtake him. "Good mornin'," said Sandy, "that was a powerful discourse on 'Thou shalt not covet' this mornin'." The minister smiled benignly. "A'm glad ye were able to profit by it," was his gratified reply. "Prof't?" exclaimed Sandy. "Why, mon, I would ha' put me axpense into the plate w'd I could ha' for yer providential words. They saved me fourpence there and then."

A expedition for the University of Pennsylvania was sent to one of the southern states some years ago for the purpose of observing a solar eclipse. The day preceding the event one of the professors said to an old colored man who was employed in the household wherein the scientist was quartered: "Sam, if you will watch your chickens tomorrow morning you will find that they'll all go to roost at eleven o'clock." Sam, as might be expected, was skeptical, but at the appointed hour the heavens were darkened and the chickens, as foretold, retired to roost. At this the old negro's amazement knew no bounds, and he excitedly sought out the scientist. "Perfessor," said he, "how long 'go did you know dem chickens wuz ergoin' to roost dis way?" "About a year ago," said the professor, indulging in a faint smile. "Well, of dat don't test all!" was the frightened man's reply. "Why, perfessor, a year ago dem chickens wuz 't even hatched!"

The bride was overwhelmingly pleased with the progress she was making in cooking, and hubby was always so encouraging and so kind in making excuses if by any chance she did make a little mistake when guests were present. This same opinion of her forbearing husband might have continued indefinitely had she not inadvertently made use of a bit of slang. Nothing that Harry was a trifle downcast when the dinner was about half over, she exclaimed gaily: "Howdy, Harry, the worst is yet to come!" Her husband glanced up quickly and with a despairing look inquired: "What! have you made a pie?"

John Butler Yeats, who paints portraits and, incidentally, is the father of William Butler Yeats, the Irish poet, is a regular patron of a certain New York restaurant. Among the habitués of this place he has acquired a reputation as a raconteur. "In my part of Ireland," he tells, "there was a noisy Scotchman who abused of everything Irish riled the neighbors considerably. At first, however, he refrained from bragging about Scotland, and we decided to wait until he should be guilty of that indiscretion before acting drastically. The chance came at last. He had been drinking at the Irish study, and ended up by saying that 'Hoot, mon, Scotland was vera delectable! It was a land flowing with milk and honey.' Well, we went for him, Scotland, and the biblical quotation he had used could not have been more outrageously misapplied. He looked us over with his angry eyes. 'Ye're wrang,' he said, 'an' I can prove it. Scotland flowed w' milk, and maybe honey, at the time that I was there. I left when I was ten months old!'"

A well-known American divine was reading one afternoon in his drawing room when his wife espied coming up the steps a certain Mrs. Jones, who was her husband's particular pet aversion. The doctor bolted upstairs leaving his wife to wait the caller. Half an hour passed, and the minister came out of his study and listened at the head of the stairs. Hearing nothing below, he called to his wife: "Has that horrible old bore come yet?" The lady was still there. The minister's wife, however, was quite equal to the emergency. "Yes, dear," she answered. "She left nearly an hour ago. Mrs. Jones is here now."

INSTITUTE HAS SPLENDID YEAR

Reports Made to Mid-Pacific Board of Managers Full of Good News and Cheer.

The board of managers of the Mid-Pacific Institute held their semi-annual meeting last week in the Central Union church parlors. Meetings have for a long time been held at the home of Mrs. B. U. Allen, but her recent death made a change necessary and called forth from the board a resolution of high appreciation of her services on the board and her yearly gifts.

In the absence of President Francis W. Damon, Rev. Doremus Scudder presided. The reports of the two principals were full of good news and good cheer. Miss Bisher reported 130 students in training for Christian work. Doctor Ferguson and his wife this first year of their administration are living with the teachers and students, and are thus better able to know and advance every interest.

Two literary societies have been organized, the Damon Lyceum and Alpha Phi. A branch of the Y. M. C. A. has been established. So well have the boys shown up in soccer and other games that the trustees decided upon a new athletic field that will rival Alexander field. It is expected that this field will be ready in September.

A further important item of policy has been established that all students after this year must live in the dormitories just as at Kamehameha. There will be ten graduates this year, half of whom expect to enter colleges on the mainland or the College of Hawaii.

As it was just six years ago the Mid-Pacific was founded the managers reported that property worth about $300,000 has been acquired and is entirely free of debt. Endowment has been begun to the extent of about $80,000 through generous annual gifts from many sources have been equivalent to the income of a large endowment.

Hon. George N. Wilcox, a generous friend of the Mid-Pacific, was elected to the board of managers. Other members are Doctor Doremus Scudder, Doctor J. W. Wadman, J. P. Cooke, Richard A. Cooke, Mrs. W. E. Frear, Mrs. Damon, Mrs. J. M. Atherton, W. A. Bowen, George P. Castle, Rev. O. H. Gullett, Theodore Richards and Frank C. Atherton.

SOCIALISTS OPPOSED TO FREE LABOR PLAN

According to resolutions adopted by the local Socialist organization of Honolulu last night, the members of that organization are opposed to having the supervisors accept the gift of the labor of two hundred idle men in Honolulu, whom the Associated Charities is willing to pay until conditions improve so that the idle laborers can secure steady employment. Here are the resolutions adopted by the Socialists at a meeting last night:

Resolved, the Associated Charities has offered to the city of Honolulu, free of charge, the labor of several hundred men, who are to receive one dollar per day.

Resolved, that it is the opinion of the Socialist party of Honolulu in public meeting assembled that the city of Honolulu should by no means accept charity, and that the employment of several hundred men at wages of one dollar per day will inevitably result in a lowering of the wages of the working class in these islands; and further we declare that all the unemployed have a right to a decent existence, and that this community should provide them with work at the prevailing scale of wages for such work as they may perform.

No Difference

The Proof Is Here the Same as Every-where.
For those who seek relief from kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder ills, Doan's Kidney Pills offer hope of relief, and the proof is here in Honolulu, the same as everywhere. Honolulu people have used Doan's, and Honolulu people recommend Doan's, the kidney remedy used in America for fifty years. Why suffer? Why run the risk of dangerous kidney ills—fatal Bright's disease? Here's Honolulu proof. Investigate it.

B. T. White, Pearl City, Oahu, Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "I am ninety-two years of age, and I suffered from backache kidney disease for eight years. I have given Doan's Backache Kidney Pills a fair trial, and have been so greatly benefited that I cheerfully recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50), or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.
